The Fulbright Scholar Program

Background

- Created in 1946 by U.S. Congress
- Sponsored by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA), as its flagship program
- Implemented by bi-national Commissions and U.S. Embassies abroad.
- Supports research, teaching, and professional projects abroad in 130 countries and locations.
- Awards are merit-based and selected through a multi-step review process, including peer review, host country review, and final approval by the Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board (FFSB).

Our mission is to foster mutual understanding between nations, advance knowledge across communities, and improve lives around the world.

Proposals are Pitches

Convince readers that you and your project are the perfect match for Fulbright's goals

- Fulbright is a person-to-person diplomacy program sponsored by the State Department
- Created by Congress to build bilateral relationships
- Seeks to benefit participants, institutions, and communities by fostering long-lasting connections

Our mission is to foster mutual understanding between nations, advance knowledge across communities, and improve lives around the world.

Know your audience

- Peers from your discipline
- Host country reviewers
- Host and home country representatives
- Alumni

Show that you are likely to be successful

- Think about what success looks like
- Have you done your homework? (e.g. checked on approvals, or, contacted those whose assistance you may need)

Write Concisely

Fulbright reviewers read every application.

- Make it easy for reviewers to find the information they're looking for quickly.
- In your opening, clearly state how your project aligns with and advances the Fulbright mission

Clarity is key

- Use clear topic sentences and logical transitions to guide the reader through your narrative.
- Ensure that your goals, methods, and expected outcomes are easy to locate and understand.
- Avoid jargon: It doesn't make your work sound smarter; it often makes it less clear;
- If there's a precise term for something, use it consistently throughout your application.

Have a novice read your application.

Common Mistakes... & How to Fix Them

Project is vague or generic; methodology lacks specifics

Defines clear research/project goals, methods, and expected outcomes

Project is not contextualized in existing work

Shows awareness of current scholarship, local context, and prior work

Feasibility, timeline or scope is not well defined or unrealistic

Presents a focused, feasible project plan with achievable objectives

Impact and outcomes are unclear

Specifies concrete outcomes, audiences, and long-term benefits/impact

Common Mistakes... & How to Fix Them, part II

Does not explain why in-country presence matters

Articulates why project requires being physically in the host country

Does not explain “Why Fulbright?” or “Why now?”

Connects project goals to Fulbright’s mission and explains timing/urgency

Applicant expertise does not clearly match project

Demonstrates relevant background, skills, and expertise to complete project

Writing/materials are confusing or not proofread

Submit clear, concise, well-organized application materials
