

International Education Administrators Seminars

The Fulbright International Education Administrators (IEA) Seminars offer fully-funded grants for U.S. higher education administrators to participate in an intensive two-week seminar abroad to learn about other countries' higher education systems.

Fulbright Scholars, including both faculty and administrators, are uniquely able to infuse curricula with cross-cultural perspectives, revitalize teaching methods, and open doors to collaboration with colleagues and students throughout the world.

Immerse Yourself in Another Higher Education System

Participants build their network, make connections and develop new perspectives to further international efforts at their own institutions. Fulbright covers all travel and accommodation costs and arranges the group's itinerary. Activities include:

- Campus visits to a wide range of universities and colleges
- Briefings from faculty and administration at public and private higher education institutions as well as from leading educational experts and government officials
- Tours of historical and cultural sites

▶ "This seminar has played a transformative role for me... I am more adept at engaging and understanding cultural interactions with my Korean colleagues and students. I also now have the knowledge and enthusiasm to encourage more students to study in South Korea for their semester abroad. This has been the highlight of my career thus far, and I will encourage all of my colleagues in international education to apply for an IEA seminar."
